Hi Christine,

Thanks for your help. Any chance you can correct the missing words in the Administrator's remarks on this web page?

<http://www2.epa.gov/goldkingmine/epa-administrator-gina-mccarthy-8112015-remarks-gold-king-mine> unfortunate accident, we have deployed the full depth and breadth of the agency

It takes time to review and analyze data, but we have our researchers and scientists to get this right and protect public health. Thankfully, there have been no reports. Additionally, from initial sampling results, as the plume has advanced seeing elevated downward trajectory toward pre-event conditions.

I think it is a wonderful statement by the Administrator. Just needs a fix.
